4.8 Other specific processing activities

Pictures, videos and audio recordings.

During events and conferences, as well as throughout DAMA CZ's programmes and activities, pictures and videos may be taken of participants. Such pictures and videos constitute an important networking, marketing, and communication tool both for DAMA CZ and for participants. Filmed interviews may additionally be used as training and/or research material within DAMA CZ's programmes and activities.

Statistics.

Any personal data collected and/or processed by DAMA CZ may be used to establish and develop statistics. The results of such statistics are anonymised as soon as possible.

Ad-hoc processing activities.

In certain specific situations, DAMA CZ may implement ad-hoc processing activities that are not (entirely or in part) covered by this general Privacy Notice. In such a case, you will be informed of the specific processing activity with a dedicated information sheet, which comes in addition to this Privacy Notice and must be read in connection with it.

5. Sharing of personal data and international transfers

As described in §4, for each category of processing operations some of your personal data may, under limited circumstances, be disclosed and shared with third parties.

In addition to the third parties listed in §4, sharing may also occur with processors and subcontractors that support DAMA CZ in performing its activities. This applies in particular to the software platforms used for events, registration, payments, communications, and the hosting of our IT environment. A list of such processors is maintained and may be made available on request.

Transfers may also occur with DAMA CZ partners, for example when co-organising programmes and events.

Overall, we never share, sell, or otherwise transmit your data to any third party for commercial purposes without your permission. In any case of transfer to third parties and processors, recipients are contractually prohibited from using or sharing the personal data for any purpose other than as contractually provided.

Geographically, DAMA CZ favours, wherever possible, processors and hosting facilities located in the EEA. Where this is not possible and the recipient is in a country that does not offer adequate data protection, DAMA CZ performs a prior data transfer impact assessment (DTIA) that considers alternatives in adequately protected countries. Where transfer must still occur, DAMA CZ applies additional safeguards, including (i) requiring the recipient to complete a detailed IT-security and data-protection questionnaire, (ii) Standard Contractual Clauses (SCCs) or another lawful safeguard mechanism, and (iii) regular review and updating of these mechanisms.

DAMA CZ may also communicate personal data to third parties when ordered or obliged to do so by a court order, governmental authority, or by law. In such a case, DAMA CZ implements the means required to limit, as much as possible, the transfer of personal data. You will also be informed of this unless applicable law prohibits us from doing so.

Should you have any questions, require further information, or wish to receive a copy of the applicable safeguards, please contact us at privacy@dama-czech.cz.

6. Security, internet security and integrity

Given the importance of security for personal data, DAMA CZ takes high-end precautions to protect personal data in its possession from loss, misuse, unauthorised access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that comply with applicable laws. The technical and organisational measures applied by DAMA CZ are described in a separate document and reviewed at least annually.

While we make every effort to follow industry-standard security practices, no data transmitted through the internet and/or stored on servers is 100% secure. As a result, we cannot guarantee absolute security; we work thoroughly to limit risks as much as possible.

7. DAMA CZ principles applied to the retention period

DAMA CZ applies the following retention principles (letters are used in §4 for ease of reference). Specific regulations and retention periods may apply to some processing activities.

Modality	Data retention period
A	From the last active contact with DAMA CZ, data is retained for 10 years for a conference, event or programme participant, or for 2 years otherwise.
B	10 years from the last active contact with DAMA CZ.
C	6 months from the event.
D	1 month from payment.
E	No limitation (typically anonymised data).

8. Your rights

You benefit from various rights, depending on the applicable legal regime. Each may be limited based on DAMA CZ's and/or third parties' legitimate interests or on other grounds, including DAMA CZ's legal obligations. To exercise them, please contact us using the contact information in §1.

- Information right. See this Privacy Notice.
- Access right. You have the right to receive confirmation from DAMA CZ as to whether personal data concerning you is being processed, and where that is the case, access to such personal data (including a copy).
- Rectification right. You have the right to request that your personal data be rectified or completed without undue delay.
- Erasure right. You have the right to request the erasure of your personal data without undue delay, subject to the conditions in Art. 17 GDPR.
- Restriction of processing right. You have the right to request that the processing of your personal data be restricted, in the cases listed in Art. 18 GDPR.
- Data portability right. You have the right to receive personal data you have provided in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format, and to transmit it to another controller, subject to the conditions in Art. 20 GDPR.
- Right to object. You have the right, at any time, to object to the processing of your personal data for reasons deriving from your particular situation, even where the processing is based on DAMA CZ's legitimate interest or on public interest.
- Right to lodge a complaint. You may lodge a complaint with the Czech Data Protection Authority – Úřad pro ochranu osobních údajů (<https://www.uoou.cz/en/>) – or with the supervisory authority of your habitual residence, place of work, or place of the alleged infringement.

Where processing is based on your consent, you may withdraw your consent at any time. Withdrawal does not affect the lawfulness of processing carried out before withdrawal, and DAMA CZ may continue to process your personal data on another lawful ground where applicable.

To access, update or otherwise act on your personal data, please write to us at privacy@dama-czech.cz. We do not operate a self-service member portal at this time. It is your responsibility to inform us of any changes so that the personal data we hold remains up-to-date and correct.

9. Changes

This Privacy Notice was last updated on 30 April 2026.

We may update this Privacy Notice at any time. Any changes will be posted on our website (<https://www.dama-czech.cz>). Material changes will additionally be communicated through DAMA CZ's usual channels.
